CODi® Announces a Complete Line of Checkpoint-Friendly Carrying Cases
Four Checkpoint-Tested Styles Cater to the Travel Needs of Road Warriors

October 9, 2008 (Harrisburg, PA) - CODi®, the premier brand known throughout the Fortune 500 for the highest quality laptop carrying and tablet cases, mobile security and accessory solutions available to corporate road warriors, is leading the industry in checkpoint-friendly carrying cases.

CODi announced its first checkpoint-tested case, the CT3 Phantom, in July and began shipping on August 1st, with the first checkpoint-tested case available on the market. Having a keen understanding of the needs of road warriors, CODi designed additional checkpoint-tested styles to complement its CT3 Phantom case and provide a full family offering.

“Corporate focus on ergonomics and the preference of backpack carrying among a young workforce dictates case designs that meet the unique needs of today’s road warrior,” said Julie Bancroft, spokesperson for CODi. Adding “We’ve addressed these needs in our CT3 Checkpoint-Tested collection, while focusing on alleviating the stress and hassle of checkpoint security pass-through, ensuring ease of use as well as protection and security of the laptop.”

Every case in the CT3 Checkpoint-Tested Collection is modeled after a best-seller in CODi’s signature line. CODi has added the CT3 Tri-Pak, a triple compartment backpack, and the CT3 Duo, a lightweight, ultra-portable shoulder case. Both are available to ship now. The CT3 Mobile Lite wheeled case will be available in January 2009.

The CT3 Checkpoint-Tested™ cases, made in the USA, retail for $200.00-$225.00 and can be purchased at codidirect.com or by calling CODi at 800.263.4462. They are also available at select specialty luggage retailers.
