CODi INTRODUCES NEW AND ENHANCED BUSINESS PRODUCTS

Harrisburg, PA – June 23, 2006 – CODi, Inc. announced today, its most extensive product launch with 14 new and enhanced products delivering a variety of style, comfort, and protection. The launch includes an expansion of the traditional notebook case line, a complete redesign of the wheeled and women's cases, and the addition of five new security solutions. CODi cases, made of premium ballistic nylon and top-grain leather, deliver exceptional value by providing lightweight models with superior performance. Designed with the most demanding business clients in mind, CODi has once again combined the perfect mix of durability with modern design that sets a new industry standard.

In addition to a sleek new design, CODi's traditional notebook cases now include soft-leather handles, easy to access front pockets, and most will accommodate 17" screen notebooks. New, is the incredibly light Attaché weighing less than 2 ½ lbs and featuring the new CODi logo embossed in leather. Two enhanced wheeled cases, the Mobile Lite and Mobile Max, provide the latest in ergonomic comfort, featuring a curved telescoping handle that is designed to reduce stress and fatigue. Both wheeled models have been redesigned to fit airline carry-on regulations for smaller regional jets.

New security solutions are available including the Adjustable Loop Lock and Patented Universal Lock. Both are perfect for securing valuable devices such as desktops, monitors, projectors, and printers. The new line includes two Steel Anchors and a Universal Anchor that is compatible with all CODi cable lock solutions.

"We're very pleased to release products that continue to provide features and business solutions that allow our business clients to work and travel in a more productive and comfortable way", said Lou Castagna, Vice President of Sales & Marketing, CODi. "A recent CODi client survey revealed value, durability, style, and comfort as the most important criteria when selecting a notebook case."

During the second half of 2006 CODi plans to introduce a new Messenger case, a Women's Leather Shoulder case, an Executive Leather Case and three new mice. All CODi cases feature an exclusive limited lifetime warranty and can be purchased directly, via your designated reseller or OEM, and at www.codidirect.com or call 1-800-263-4462.
